Part A: Master Narrative Questions

The total narrative can be a maximum of 5 pages. Include the numbers for each question.

1. Thoroughly describe your background and experience with the traditional art form you wish to teach. Include in detail how, when, from whom, and why you learned the art form. [This is the most important question.] (10,000 maximum characters)
2. Describe the proposed apprenticeship. Include the techniques, styles, designs, and processes you will teach and how you plan to teach them. (5,000 maximum characters)
3. Describe the proposed work schedule. Include when, where, and how often will you meet. Indicate the approximate length of time for each meeting, e.g., 3 hours each session for 2 sessions a month, from July to December. (5,000 maximum characters)

Part B: Apprentice Narrative Questions

The total narrative can be a maximum 5 pages. Include the numbers for each question.

1. Thoroughly describe your background and experience with the traditional art form you wish to study. If you already have some experience in this art form, describe in detail how, when, from whom, and why you began learning this art form. [This is the most important question.] (10,000 maximum characters)
2. How did you meet the master? Explain if you have worked together previously, formally or informally. (5,000 maximum characters)
3. Why do you wish to participate in this apprenticeship and why with this master? (5,000 maximum characters)
4. What are your plans to continue the traditional art form after the apprenticeship is completed? (5,000 maximum characters)

Part C: Work Samples and Additional Support Materials

Work samples will help the panel evaluate the artistic quality of the master and apprentice(s).

Master Applicants:

- who have not participated previously in the program are required to submit work samples.
- who have participated in the program and are applying to teach a different tradition from what they were previously approved for, are required to submit work samples.
- who have participated previously in the program and are applying to teach the same tradition are not required to submit work samples; previous grant reviews have approved their master artistry designation.

Apprentices: All apprentice applicants are required to submit work samples.
